The territories of Donnafugata

5 wineries,
a great journey

Sicily is a wine-making continent with over a thousand years of history, and it boasts over 70 indigenous grape varieties and a multitude of extraordinary climates.

Donnafugata's vineyards are cultivated in very different contexts, promoting the potential of the island: from the estates overlooking the sea to those in the hilly and mountainous areas. In our vineyards, we focus on these diversities by finding the best combination between terroir and grape varieties: from the Contessa Entellina estate in Western Sicily and the volcanic island of Pantelleria, up to the Eastern side of Vittoria (Acate) and Etna (Randazzo), the highest active volcano in Europe.

Contessa Entellina Estate

Where Donnafugata was born

We are in the heart of western Sicily where the vineyards are part of the landscape; the climate is Mediterranean, with sharp temperature differences between day and night. We cultivate indigenous and international grapes aimed at enhancing the peculiarities of the different districts and to produce wines with a strong personality.

Where the “alberello” vine is
UNESCO World Heritage

We fell in love with the extreme nature of Pantelleria, a volcanic island between Sicily and Africa, where we started a project of heroic viticulture. In Pantelleria the vines are cultivated with the “alberello pantesco” (low-bush vine of Pantelleria), on small terraces, bordered by dry lava stone walls.

Etna Estate

On the highest active volcano in Europe

In Eastern Sicily, we cultivate our vineyards on Etna's northern slopes, where the land reveals its immense power. Here, the elegance of volcanic wines reflects the art of mountain winemaking, shaped by a continental climate with Mediterranean influences, terraced vineyards, and dry-stone walls built from volcanic rock.

In southeastern Sicily, we have chosen an area suited for producing smooth red wines with a floral soul, unusual wines capable of innovating the way red wine is enjoyed. It is the Vittoria area, the land of a historic and prestigious denomination that includes the first DOCG in Sicily: Cerasuolo di Vittoria.

Creativity and craftsmanship

Dolce&Gabbana and Donnafugata

Attentiveness to detail and passion for Sicily are the common denominators that unite Dolce&Gabbana and Donnafugata in a collaboration that blends creativity and craftsmanship. The result is a collection of extraordinary wines that embody the colours, aromas and culture of Sicily around the world: the seductive Rosa rosé, the enveloping Isolano white, the elegant Cuordilava red and the esteemed Tancredi.

The essence of Donnafugata

Six generations in quality wines

Donnafugata was founded in Sicily by a family whose passion has reshaped the style and perception of Sicilian wine worldwide. Giacomo Rallo, the fourth generation of a family with over 170 years of experience in quality winemaking, established Donnafugata in 1983 alongside his wife Gabriella, a pioneer of women in viticulture. Today, their children, José and Antonio, lead the company with a team committed to excellence. With Gabriella Favara, the family's sixth generation has now joined the business.

The historic cellars of Marsala, the beating heart of the winery's activities

The historic cellars in Marsala were built in 1851: they host an excellent productive reality whilst preserving the typical Mediterranean "baglio" layout, including a large and charming inner courtyard, dotted with citrus and olive trees. In the enchanting underground barrique cellar we age some of the most iconic wines of Donnafugata: the cellar is dug into the tuff rock to minimize the energy consumption and to maintain the desired parameters of temperature (15°C) and humidity (85%) for optimal aging in wood.

The Dolce&Gabbana and Donnafugata project

Attention to detail and love for Sicily are the core values of the collaboration between Dolce&Gabbana and Donnafugata in which creativity and craftsmanship meet. While Donnafugata constantly explores new territories to obtain extraordinary wines, Dolce&Gabbana and their creativity tell and promote these prestigious products thanks to a unique life-style. Thus was born a collection of wines, extraordinary ambassadors of Sicilian colors, scents, and culture in the world: the alluring rosé Rosa, the captivating white Isolano, the elegant red Cuordilava, and the prestigious red Tancredi.

The sustainability

Our commitment to producing while respecting the environment and the human being

Sustainability is a value that is part of Donnafugata's DNA. For over 30 years we have been committed to producing wines while respecting the environment and humanity: from good practices in the vineyard to the protection of the biodiversity, from the energy saving to the production of clean energy. In 2021 we strengthened our commitment to Environmental, Social and Governance Sustainability, in line with the objectives of the UN 2030 Agenda, by joining the SOSStain Sicily Foundation, the program of sustainability for the Sicilian viticulture.

Sustainable packaging

NOMACORC OCEAN

Donnafugata was the first in the world to use the Nomacorc Ocean closure, produced by recycling plastic collected in coastal areas in order to protect the marine ecosystem. As part of our commitment to sustainability, we have also begun to use “Centopercento Sicilia” bottles, predominantly produced on the island of Sicily from recycled glass: a virtuous example of the circular economy promoted by the SOSStain Sicilia Foundation and put into practice by O-I Glass. These bottles are also lighter, helping to reduce CO₂ emissions and the environmental impact caused by the production process and transportation.

Dialogue with art

Name, logo and labels: a tribute to literature

The story of the name “Donnafugata” originates from the most Sicilian of novels: Il Gattopardo (The Leopard). It refers to Queen Maria Carolina who, fleeing from Naples, found refuge where the winery's vineyards are located today. A story that also inspired our logo: a woman's face with her hair in the wind. A face, and a story, that is also that of Gabriella Rallo. One of the first women in Sicily to produce wine in a sector typically dominated by men: a pioneer of high-quality women viticulture. Gabriella is also the source of inspiration for the labels designed for Donnafugata by Stefano Vitale. A harmonious understanding the one among Gabriella and Stefano that began in 1992 and has lasted for over 30 years. The artist manages to capture the personality of each wine and evoke the colors and the land of Sicily: an indissoluble part of the essence of Donnafugata.

Territory and culture

We have been committed to promoting the territory for years, by supporting initiatives such as: Scuola Normale di Pisa, Giuseppe Nenci's Prize and Tomasi di Lampedusa Literary Prize. We also collaborate with FAI - Fondo Ambiente Italiano since 2005, with the common objective of safeguarding and promoting the Italian landscapes: a partnership strengthened by the restoration and donation of the Giardino Pantesco Pantellerian garden which raises among the company's vineyards.
